Kreativ Dental Clinic, Budapest has been crowned the best dental clinic in Europe and the second best in the world at the IMTJ Medical Travel Awards.

The commendation was presented to Attila Knott, Owner and Managing Director of Kreativ Dental at the International Dental Summit organised by International Medical Travel Journal (IMTJ) in London. There were 15 jurors present and Kreativ Dental secured a place at the top, ahead of many world-renowned practices.

Mr Knott said: "We have served patients and built this industry relentlessly for the last 18 years and we are proud to receive this prestigious recognition in dental tourism."

Chairman of the judging panel and Managing Editor of IMTJ Keith Pollard says the awards celebrate the best providers in the industry and aim to encourage others to strive to match them.

"Medical travel is an exciting and growing global industry, with many providers delivering excellence in both medical care and customer service. The IMTJ Medical Travel Awards are the first independent awards to recognise those who are the best of the best and to encourage others to emulate them. The judges wanted to reward innovation and excellence."

Based in Budapest, Kreativ Dental is the leading dental practice in Europe and attracts customers from all over the continent who choose to travel abroad for their dental treatment. In fact, they treat over 200 patients a month from the UK and Ireland, and that figure is expected to grow in the coming years.

So why are so many people choosing to travel to Kreativ Dental for their dental care?

According to Mary Flanagan, Kreativ Dental's Irish representative, the reason is simple. It's all down to the excellence of their dental specialists, superior quality products used and the guarantee provided is the strongest one, you will find anywhere in the world. Mary Flanagan the Irish representative provides a hands on service before during and after treatment, when a patient returns home, if required we have a panel of aftercare dentists in Ireland. We strive to make the whole experience as comfortable, caring for our patients needs and efficient as possible

High quality dentistry is the most important element combined with prices that are 60% to 70% less than Irish prices. Tax back may be claimed similar to visiting an Irish dentist.

"Budapest is the centre of excellence for dentistry in Europe. All of our dentists are experts in their own respective fields of dentistry, including oral surgeons, a maxilla facial surgeon, endodontist and periodontist., cosmetic specialists. I would advise people considering dental treatment abroad, at Kreativ Dental Clinic to read the independent reviews on Google and to check out our patient testimonial reviews on YouTube. They really do speak for themselves."

And Mary's talking from experience.

At 25, she began having problems with her teeth, so she sought treatment in Ireland. Over the space of 10 years had many root canal treatments, crowns fitted which later fell out, followed by eight teeth being extracted due to failure of root canals, needless to say she still didn't have the smile she had dreamed of.

At 35 Mary was told by one Irish dentist that her only option was dentures. Another told her he could do the work but it would cost up to €60,000. It was at this point that a friend's uncle, who happened to be a retired Irish dentist, recommended she visit the experts at Kreativ Dental in Budapest.

"I had had so many problems with dentists over the years that I was apprehensive before making the journey to Budapest but I'm so glad I did."

Mary ended up having eight implants and 26 porcelain crowns fitted at the much lower price-tag of €12,000 plus €400 for her flights.

"It was absolutely brilliant. I finally got my confidence back and I can eat food I couldn't eat before. I couldn't be happier with my teeth."

"I travel on the plane with people, stay in the same hotel and accompany them to the clinic. For some people, this can be very reassuring.

“I’ve been through the process myself so I know how nervous people can be, but I also know how brilliant it feels to be finally able to smile, eat all foods, which I could not do and be happy in the knowledge that my oral health is 100% perfect.
